Exmoor National Park Historic Environment Record on the Heritage Gateway

Users should be aware that there is a significant backlog of information that has not yet been put into the ENPHER, which is constantly being updated, so that the information available via the Heritage Gateway may be out of date compared to that held at Exmoor National Park Authority. We aim to update our information on the Heritage Gateway about every 6 months.

The information contained in the ENPHER has been produced from various sources, a substantial part being compiled by both Devon and Somerset County Councils before being transferred to Exmoor National Park Authority in 2009. The Authority acknowledges the work carried out by both County Councils in establishing and maintaining the Historic Environment Records for the National Park.

Due to the information being compiled from a number of sources you may find that information on a particular site is split between several records, or duplicated over two or three records. Also, some of our records do not currently have a Summary or Title. We are undertaking a programme of record checking and recasting of our existing records to improve their content.

For the reasons given above, data for planning related studies/enquiries should be obtained directly from the ENPHER and not via the Heritage Gateway.

Information held within the database is subject to Intellectual Property Rights. Users will need to obtain consent from authors and the ENPHER to reproduce any of the information.

Definitive information on designated sites, including Scheduled Monuments, Listed Buildings and Registered Parks and Gardens can be obtained from English Heritage. The ENPHER does not currently provide this information through Heritage Gateway.

The inclusion of a site or monument within the ENPHER can not be taken to mean or imply that there is public right of access, or that access permission will be granted upon request.

For further information about the Exmoor National Park Historic Environment Record, please visit the Exmoor National Park Authority website at:

http://www.exmoor-nationalpark.gov.uk/index/learning_about/historic_environment